

Which activity at home does your child find most challenging due to his or her symptoms of ADHD?

Homework

Listening to instruction

Social interactions with friends or visitors

Completing household chores

Sitting still or staying engaged in conversation during meals

Watching a movie with the family